THE business of Lihue's official dog catcher, is said to be a howling success.

To say "he's 'nuts' on polo," Does't mean a man is lolo.

You may talk about your Pines
And the prices they will bring—
Your Cotton, and Tobacco, too,
But Old Sugar Cane is King.

If its "butter fat" that the Pure Food Commissioners in Honolulu are after, why the dickens don't they have ice-cream made from butter milk.

WHAT with all the "new ideas" which have been and are still being captured by the different heads of our school department, we can look forward to something startling in our school system in the near future.

Educational BeeNow doth the little busy bee,
Improve each shining minute,
It's stung the "Board" with a "new idea—"
Now the rest of us ain't in it.

THE letter by "citizen" in this issue is of more than passing interest to our readers, many of whom are personally acquainted with Mr. Sheldon who is given credit as the originator of what seems to be a vast improvement on the prevailing methods.

If the different plantations were to offer a premium to every lad who attained a certain knowledge of cane growing by the time he completed his school course, there would be much less alarm felt at the passage of the Dillingham Bill or any other bill which deals with the labor situation.

A MISSOURI exchange says:

"A car load of beer broke down at Corder a few days ago and one thousand persons volunteered to accompany the wrecking crew which was called out to repair the damage. It was free beer to all."

What a sad sight it must have been to see such a throng volunteering to visit their own (bier) beer.

"WORCESTER MASS. In an anti-fly crusade has captured ten barrels full. There were 232 contestants the winner receiving $100, having turned in ninety-five quarts or 1,219,000 flies, and claims the world's championship. The entire collection will be placed on exhibition in the Clark University."—Louisiana Mo. Press-Journal.

Herein lies a suggestion to the Board of Health in their anti-mosquito crusade. Offer a prize for the largest number of mosquitoes captured and see how earnestly the matter will be taken up.

SCHOOL INSPECTOR MCCLUSKY, has joined the "new idea" club, having sailed for the coast last week. Mr. Horner of the Kukaiau School, will hold down the lid until Mr. McClusky returns. With Gibson and McClusky both absent from the Territory, the Hilo school matter will probably get a rest, and the little Japanese student who failed to pass, will have an opportunity to bombard Mr. Pope, for a change.

THE Kalihiwai wharf proposition is in the same class with the Hanapepe School affair. The Honolulu officials have a way of neglecting island affairs which is not very likely to be appreciated by those who do not happen to be among the "favored few." The Hanalei wharf, too, at which a big bluff was recently made, is as far along as it was a year ago. What we want is "Action" and less "hot air," and if we do not get it, there is just enough curiosity in us, to find out why.

THE College of Hawaii when established, was considered all that was necessary to create efficient agriculturists in sufficient numbers to supply our needs. A list of such "efficient" men from this college would be interesting. The examination entrance to this college, [based on a state school standard] is one which prevents many of our bright country lads from getting a show which they have every right to demand. How many of our parents are able, financially, to send their boys to the High School? Again, by the time a boy—who has been reared among rural surroundings—spends two years or more in High School, he is weaned away from his former environments and adopts a desire for "city life," with the result that he seeks clerical employment. Lower the standard of entrance, if necessary, and give our boys a chance to show the stuff that is in them instead of supporting a college which may be—and very likely is—doing excellent work in its line, but that line is certainly not along lines conducive to the best interests of our young ruralites.

A Communication

Editor GARDEN ISLAND,

DEAR SIR:—

Being an old kamaina I am naturally interested in the progress of our islands.

The sugar industry has progressed wonderfully during the last thirty or forty years, both in the manufacture of sugar and the cultivation of cane. The improvement in the machinery for the boiling-house has great advantages over that of thirty or more years ago. Equally the same with agricultural implements.

I saw a mould-board plow at the Lihue Plantation, built by Mr. H. Sheldon, the plantation blacksmith, which took my eye. It is the best tool of the kind I ever saw, though it was just completed and had not yet been tried, I would go my all on it. It should make the finest kind of a furrow for cane planting. The mould-boards are curved so they will slide through the soil.

Another feature of it is, it has no wheel in the front of the beam like the old style plow. Sheldon has a rod attached to the standard, running under the beam, and about 4 in. from the end of the beam is an adjustable rod with hand nuts. It is attached to this pulling rod which pulls directly from the standard. By this adjusting rod the plow is adjusted to plow deep or shallow as the case may require. The great difficulty in plowing has been, to be able to adjust the plow properly, unless an experienced man is employed to assist in adjusting the plow. The device Sheldon has, is a simple one. I have been told the said mould-board or furrow plow, is doing just as I said it would, (splendid work) runs easy, and makes a perfect furrow.

Thanking you for the space in your up-to-date little paper, I am Very truly yours,
Citizen.Los Angeles Papers Must Be Good

The Los Angeles Grand Jury has lopped off a chunk of good advice to the newspapers of that city in its call for peace among them. War has existed between the papers for years and the interment of the battle ax, would be a wholesome treat to their readers.

Anything, in short but hats!Dock Hands Strike Tying Up Vessels

The dock hands in London have gone on a strike, which has assumed such proportions as to tie up one hundred and fifty vessels. Shipping is suffering greatly, and it is feared in many quarters that a sympathetic strike among general trades organizations will follow unless an early settlement of the prevailing conditions is made.
